I had this silly plan to toss a keychain with my name on it into Ol' Puncty right before she erupted, so it would pop back out and everyone would see my name floating at the top of the spray.

But when it came time, some bigger kids pushed in front of me, and I couldn't get close enough. But boy, when that beautiful geyser erupted, I forgot alllllll my worries...

LIL MARTY
